Cookie dough is a delicious treat that was originally intended as raw cookie dough, but is now available in a ready-to-eat form. It's a nostalgic treat that brings to mind the experience of snacking on cookie dough while baking.

Our cookie dough chunks are specially designed to provide that same delicious experience, but without the worry of raw ingredients.

At Van der Pol, we understand that finding the perfect treat is an essential part of the ice cream experience. Our cookie dough chunks are exactly that treat you're looking for, all made with real Dutch creamy butter and premium Belgian fairtrade chocolate. They're small in size, but big in flavour, with a perfect sugar crunch that makes every bite a delight.
